

Update

Big Cat has left the Hangar!

In the dead of night under Police supervision, Big Cat was taken to the Caboolture River where she waited until daylight. After careful dogmen guidance her hull kissed the calm waters to the cheers many excited onlookers.

1 The proud owners, Jim and Virginia Theodorou

To commemorate Big Cat's birth, Jim and Virginia Theodorou broke an expensive bottle of sparkling wine on her port side. Like tradition from the days of the Greeks and Romans this was followed by a feasting of prawns, fresh oysters, drinks and merriment. No sacrifices to Poseidon the monarch of the seas in Greek mythology nor heads in olive branch wreaths were noticed but prayers and wishes were made for her passenger and crew safety and success.

2 Almost all who worked on her are pictured. Missing are the painters, Ultra Marine Coatings and 1 fabricator.

She passed her final Survey ticks and is poised for any decent work-out that might be trust upon her. Her Furuno equipment has impressed all who have gone on her. Fish Beware!
